Molars often need dental sealants to protect them from decay. The best time to put sealants on teeth is just after the molars appear, but before decay starts.