

Visit the North Carolina State Laboratory of Public Health

NC SciFest Event
April 14, 2026 • 11 a.m. - 1 p.m.
4312 District Drive, Raleigh, NC, 27607

Get ready for a super fun and exciting experience with our awesome team of scientists! Spend a couple of hours packed with hands-on activities that will make you feel like a real scientist in action!

You'll learn more about our cutting-edge lab and uncover the secrets behind how we keep all North Carolinians healthy and happy. From mind-blowing demonstrations to interactive challenges that will have you laughing and learning, this is your chance to see science in action! No registration is required for individuals or groups smaller than 10.

Large group registration is available by reaching out to Lacey Dickerson, NCSLPH Outreach Coordinator, at lacey.dickerson@dhhs.nc.gov. Space is limited and on a first come first serve basis.
